Der Rabbi von Bacherach. Ein Fragment

Heinrich Heine

the incomplete novel by means of German author Heinrich Heine (1799-1856) describes the lifetime of Rabbi Abraham and his spouse Sara on the finish of the center a while within the small city of Bacherach at the Rhine and within the Jewish region of Frankfurt at the Main.

Like Heine himself, it is packed with contradiction, swinging dizzily from side to side among half-familiar, half-reverential love for the Jewish tradition, and extremely darkish cynicism approximately Jews and gentiles alike. I want the remainder of the publication had now not been lost.
