"Fear of the Lord is the start of wisdom," writes Sue Anne Steffey Morrow. "As we... deepen our realizing of wisdom's ways, it really is my desire that our wisdom of the Hebrew Scriptures could be deepened, and our awe for the only God be magnified." The 10 sermons during this publication are in accordance with first lesson texts essentially from 2 Samuel, 1 Kings, and Proverbs. The sermons persist with the Revised universal Lectionary. "I recommend that we The Beginning of Wisdom: First Lesson Sermons for Pentecost: Middle Third: Cycle B process Proverbs one at a time: live on one proverb, give some thought to it, take into consideration it, extend it on your view, relate it on your experience, to people who you know, argue with the proverb, locate its loophole, The Beginning of Wisdom: First Lesson Sermons for Pentecost: Middle Third: Cycle B probe it to determine if there's fact or knowledge to be found." (from the correct 18 sermon) Sue Anne Steffey Morrow is affiliate dean of the Princeton collage Chapel. She graduated from Skidmore university and Union Theological Seminary in manhattan City. She served at the advisory committee of the Preaching undertaking and is a preacher at a number of United Methodist convention colleges for ministry.
